Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 09. A traffic police officer was injured after being dragged on the bonnet of a speeding car by a driver attempting to evade arrest in the Baitala area of Agartala on Thursday.

According to police, the vehicle was stopped by traffic personnel following allegations that it had hit a pedestrian. However, the driver allegedly accelerated suddenly, forcing on-duty Traffic Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) Biplob Dutta onto the bonnet before fleeing the spot.

Eyewitnesses said other traffic personnel and local traders tried to stop the vehicle, but the driver ignored them and sped away, creating panic in the area.

The accused reportedly threw the ASI off the vehicle near the Pratapgarh Steel Bridge before escaping. The injured officer was rescued and provided with medical treatment.

Traffic Department DSP Dulal Dutta said the vehicle has been identified through its registration number. A case has been registered at West Agartala Police Station, and a search operation has been launched to arrest the accused driver.

Police said further investigation into the incident is underway.

Man gets 20 years of RI

Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 08. The Court of the Ld. Additional District & Sessions Judge, Agartala, West Tripura District, on July 8 convicted a man named Gopal Ghosh (55), a resident of Ananganagar, Habitat Colony, Baishya Para under Airport Police Station, and sentenced him to 20 years of rigorous imprisonment for committing an offence under Section 423 of the POCSO Act. The court also imposed a fine of Rs 50,000 on the convict. In default of payment of the fine, he will have to undergo an additional three months of rigorous imprisonment. The case was registered as S.P. (POCSO) 07/2024, arising out of Airport Police Station Case No. 07/2024 under Section 376(1) of the Indian Penal Code.

According to the case details, on January 25, 2024, at around 12:30 PM, the accused allegedly called the victim to his residence, where he closed the door and forcibly touched and rubbed her private parts with an alleged ill intention.

Following a detailed investigation, Sub-Inspector Rajul Das of Airport Police Station (currently posted at New Capital Complex Police Station under West District) submitted the chargesheet against the accused on February 29, 2024.

After examining the evidence and proceedings of the case, the trial court found Gopal Ghosh guilty and awarded the punishment accordingly.

Heavy rainfall wreaks havoc in state 300 houses damaged, over 3k in relief camps

Observer Reporter

Agartala/Telukuma/Khowai: Jul 08. Due to the heavy rainfall in parts of Tripura in the last 24 hours, as many as 300 houses have been damaged and 3,161 persons have taken shelter in 31 relief camps. As per the report, due to the heavy rainfall, 11 houses were damaged in Ambassa sub-division under Dhalai district, including 1 house damaged fully, 3 severely and 7 partly. In Longtharai Valley in the same district, 267 houses, including 43 fully, 67 severely and 157 partly damaged, were reported, while in Gandacherra sub-division, 22 houses were damaged.

The report further informed that the Khowai River, which flows through Khowai and Dhalai districts, Manu and Deo rivers in Kalishahar sub-division of Unakoti district, and Juri River in North district are flowing above the expected flood level.

As the river water is flowing through the plain lands, water has entered many houses, causing people to become homeless, and the government has also opened relief camps.

The government has opened 13 relief camps, in which 1,187 inmates have taken shelter. The report has also said that the rain has badly affected Khowai district, where 14 relief camps were opened and 1,703 inmates have taken shelter.

While in Kumarghat sub-division under Unakoti district, 4 relief camps were opened where 271 inmates have taken shelter.

The government, in a statement, said that necessary food and milk for children have been arranged for the refugees in the shelter camps. The Health Department has arranged for health check-ups and necessary medical services.

On this day, MLA and Chief Whip of the Tripura Legislative Assembly Kalyani Saha Roy, Member of District Council Hollywood Chakma, Member of District Council Dhananjay Tripathy, and MLA Sambhu Lal Chakma visited the affected areas and relief camps. They also rescued people who were stuck in their houses due to waterlogging. Various officials of the sub-division administrations were present with them.

Transparent, tech-based tax system soon: Dr Saha

Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 08. Chief Minister Prof. Dr. Manik Saha today said that timely taxpayers are not only fulfilling their legal obligations, but are also playing an important role as responsible citizens in the economic progress and infrastructure development of the state.

"The state government is determined to build a more transparent and accountable tax system in the coming days," said the Chief Minister.

Chief Minister Prof. (Dr.) Manik Saha said this while inaugurating the jubilee celebrations of the Tripura State Tax Department at Pragya Bhavan in Agartala on the occasion of its 50th anniversary.

At the event, Dr. Saha formally launched the Tripura Integrated Network for Enforcement Tracking and Risk Analytics (TINETRA), TRUESIPAP, and Excise Connect digital system by pressing a button. On the occasion, Dr. Saha said that today is a historic moment in the glorious journey of the State Tax Department over the last 50 years.

"In these 50 years, the Tax Department has not only collected revenue but has also played an important role in implementing various public welfare programmes, including development, infrastructure construction, education and health initiatives," he said. He said that the launch of five apps to make the tax system more transparent, simple and people-friendly through digital technology is highly commendable.

The Chief Minister expressed the hope that, as a result, taxpayers will be able to pay taxes more quickly and easily.

Congratulating regular taxpayers, the Chief Minister said that their cooperation is the main strength behind the state's economic development.

"These digital methods will make the tax system more efficient and people-friendly," he said.

The Chief Minister expressed the hope that in the coming days, the department will work with greater efficiency, honesty and dedication and provide proper services to the people of the state. Finance Minister Pranajit Singha Roy, Secretary of the Finance Department Dr. Prashant Kumar Goel, and Commissioner of Agartala Central Goods and Services Tax Commissionerate Kundan Yadav were present on the occasion.

THRC orders probe into death of newborn

Observer Reporter

Agartala: July 08: The Tripura Human Rights Commission (THRC) has directed the Director of Health and Family Welfare Department, Government of Tripura, to conduct a proper inquiry into the alleged negligence surrounding the death of a newborn at AGMC & GBP Hospital and submit a report before the Commission by July 28.

The Commission, headed by Chairperson Justice Arindam Lodh, took note of newspaper reports published on July 1, which alleged medical negligence in the treatment of Pinki Debnath of Khowai district and the subsequent death of her newborn child.

According to the reports, the pregnant woman was under the care of a gynecologist attached to a diagnostic centre near Rupashi Hall in Agartala. Her family alleged that they did not receive the required cooperation from the concerned medical officer during her pregnancy and at the time of delivery. Following medical advice, she was admitted to AGMC & GBP Hospital on June 13 after experiencing labour pain. The reports further claimed that the concerned medical officer did not attend the hospital the following day, following which she underwent a cesarean section.

"The newborn, who reportedly developed breathing complications immediately after birth, was admitted to the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) but died on June 29 after 15 days of treatment. The newspaper reports also quoted doctors as stating that the delay in delivery may have resulted in the fetus passing meconium inside the womb, leading to severe lung damage," the report of THRC said.

PCC seeks transparency in state's SIR exercise

Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 08. Tripura Congress spokesperson on Wednesday raised serious concerns over the ongoing voter list revision process and alleged that the state government and election authorities were not providing clarity on the implementation of the Special Summary Revision (SIR) exercise.

Addressing a press conference, Tripura Congress spokesperson Prabin Chakraborty Chakraborty said the issue was "very important" and required the cooperation of the people of the state. He warned the State Election Officer and demanded transparency in the voter verification process.

He said the Congress state president had recently sent a letter to the Election Commission of India (ECI) through the election officer regarding the current SIR process, but the party had neither received an acknowledgement nor seen any action taken on the matter.

Recalling the ECI notification issued on May 14, Chakraborty said the commission had directed that unification forms be distributed door-to-door from June 30, with Booth Level Officers (BLOs) collecting the forms and preparing reports for electoral authorities. He said the process was intended to prepare the draft voter list, identify foreign voters and remove illegal entries.

"We want a proper voter list across the country and in Tripura. The sanctity of elections must be protected," Chakraborty said, alleging that electoral irregularities had become a serious concern. He claimed that during an all-party meeting called by the State Election Commissioner after the Congress president's letter, the commissioner did not provide a clear response regarding the letter and said that the process would begin in September.

Taking a political swipe at the ruling BJP, Chakraborty alleged that the party had lost public support and was attempting to influence electoral processes to remain in power. He accused the Election Commission of favouring the BJP, a charge that has been repeatedly denied by the ruling party and election authorities.

Referring to alleged discrepancies in the handling of the SIR process, he questioned why different states appeared to have different timelines. He cited Karnataka, claiming that the

Chose to maintain silence...! Champat Rai issues first reaction in Ram Mandir donation theft case

New Delhi, Jul 08: VHP leader Champat Rai, who stepped down as general secretary of the Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust following allegations of theft in temple donations, has finally spoken out on the controversy. In a handwritten letter posted on X, Rai explained that he had held back from commenting "as per the wishes of the trust" while a Special Investigation Team looked into the matter. "There has been much speculation regarding the theft that occurred during the counting of donations from the donation box at the Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Temple complex since June 6, 2026, and I have personally faced various unfair allegations. I chose to remain silent because, as per the wishes of the Trust, an SIT (Special Investigation Team) submitted its preliminary report for verification. That report has now been made public," he wrote in Hindi. He asked people to hold off from drawing conclusions until the SIT's final findings are out. "Although the report was initially confidential, everyone should wait for the SIT's final decision. After the investigation is completed, appropriate responses should be given to all the misinformation and misconceptions being spread. The truth will come out in due course," he said. Reflecting on his decades of service in Ayodhya through the organisation since October 1991, My public life of about 45 years has always been like an open book, wherever I have worked. I respectfully bow before the truth." His comments come days after the Trust, at an extended meeting on Monday, accepted the resignations of both Rai and trustee Anil Mishra, swiftly naming retired Indian Forest Service officer Krishna Mohan as interim general secretary to oversee the temple's day-to-day affairs. Announcing the decisions afterwards, Trust treasurer Govind Devi Girdi called the theft of offerings "shameful" and stressed the need for accountability and administrative reform. He said the episode had deeply hurt both the Trust and devotees of Lord Ram, prompting members to reflect seriously on what had happened. "Champat Rai himself decided to step down, reasoning that it would be inappropriate for him to remain in the post until the accused in the theft case were arrested and punished," Girdi said. He explained that senior trustee S. Parashar had pointed to the Trust's constitution, which requires that a resignation be accepted the moment it is submitted. "It was on this ground that the resignations of both Champat Rai and Anil Mishra were accepted," Girdi added, while also acknowledging Rai's long-standing contribution to the Trust since its formation and the start of temple construction.

process there involved house-to-house form distribution, publication of the draft voter list on August 5, and completion of the final voter list by October 7. "If the Election Commission has one set of rules, why is the process being kept unclear in Tripura?" Chakraborty asked. Chakraborty said the State should meet the Congress leadership and seek answers on the matter. "We will not allow votes to become a tool of manipulation in this state. The voter list must remain transparent and fair," he said.

The matter has been listed for further consideration on July 28, 2026, when the Commission will take up the Director's report.

Kidney patient alleges land grab, assault; Appeals to CM for justice

Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 08. A kidney patient from Aralia has alleged that land belonging to his family was illegally transferred to a land mafia figure through fraudulent mutation, leaving him and his ailing mother without the means to fund his medical treatment. The family has appealed to the state administration and the Chief Minister for justice. Rajesh Saha, a resident of Aralia, under Patnagarh Mandal, claimed that his mother, Minati Rani Saha, had purchased the plot through a registered deed in 1992. Soon after the purchase, Rajesh's father passed away, and financial hardship forced the family to relocate. According to him, the RTI response stated that while Minati Rani Saha remained the lawful owner of the property, the land was under the possession of Bhajan Das. "I am a kidney patient and my mother is also unwell. We wanted to sell the land to arrange money for my treatment, but our property has been fraudulently transferred," Rajesh alleged.

The matter escalated on Tuesday when Rajesh, accompanied by local residents, visited the disputed land. He alleged that Bhajan Das and his associates assaulted him during the visit, leaving him seriously injured.

Rajesh has submitted representations to the administration, demanding restoration of the land, legal action against those responsible, and protection for his family. He has also appealed to Chief Minister Prof. Dr. Manik Saha to intervene and help recover what he described as his mother's only remaining asset.

He alleged that in 2015, during the previous Left Front regime, the land was illegally mutated in the name of Bhajan Das, whom he described as a land mafia operator, without the family's knowledge. Rajesh said he was diagnosed with kidney disease in 2021 and was advised to undergo advanced treatment. Hoping to raise funds by selling the family property, he was shocked to discover that the land records no longer reflected his mother's ownership.

Seeking clarification, Rajesh filed an application under the Right to Information (RTI) Act with the Sadar SDM office. According to him, the RTI response stated that while Minati Rani Saha remained the lawful owner of the property, the land was under the possession of Bhajan Das.

MP Biplob to seek Nadda's help for Manashree

Observer Reporter

Agartala: Jul 08. West Tripura MP Biplob Kumar Deb has initiated steps to facilitate advanced medical treatment for young Manashree and is expected to speak with Union Health Minister Jagat Prakash Nadda on Wednesday evening to seek the Centre's support. Sources informed that Deb has already held a virtual interaction with Manashree's father to understand her medical condition, ongoing treatment and the challenges faced by the family. Following the discussion, he began coordinating with the Union Minister of Health and Family Welfare to secure timely medical assistance.

Manashree's father had appealed to the MP for help in securing a life-saving drug through the Central Government by obtaining the Health Minister's approval. He also highlighted the possibility of accessing the medicine from a manufacturer under a compassionate Access Programme and sought the Centre's intervention in coordinating the arrangements. Meanwhile, arrangements have reportedly been made to reschedule an earlier appointment with specialist Dr. Shefali Goyal at AIMS after the request from the family. Deb is also working with the Union Health Ministry to ensure uninterrupted advanced treatment and all possible assistance for Manashree.

BKTC official booked over Badrinath Temple donation embezzlement

Observer Reporter

Joshimath (Uttarakhand), July 8 (IANS) A case has been registered at the Badrinath Police Station following a complaint by the Badrinath-Kedarnath Temple Committee (BKTC) regarding the alleged embezzlement of temple donations. Action has been initiated under Sections 306 and 316(5) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), 2023. Trouble has mounted for Pramod Naythai, the Personal Assistant posted in the office of the BKTC Chairman. Following a departmental inquiry and his subsequent suspension, the police have now registered an FIR against him.

FIR No. 0006 was registered at the Badrinath Police Station on Wednesday, July 8, based on a written complaint filed by BKTC. The complaint, signed by the BKTC Chairman, Pramod Naythai, alleged that Pramod Naythai had allegedly withdrawn temple funds without proper authorisation. Following the preliminary findings, the BKTC suspended Naythai with immediate effect on July 7, stating that allowing him to continue in his position could compromise the fairness and impartiality of the investigation.

With the complaint now formally lodged, the matter has moved beyond a departmental inquiry and entered the stage of a criminal investigation. Police have registered the case and begun their probe.

However, officials clarified that the registration of an FIR does not amount to a confirmation of the allegations. The final determination of guilt or innocence will depend on the outcome of the police investigation and subsequent judicial proceedings.

Meanwhile, not satisfied with the BKTC's initial investigation, the Union Government on Tuesday evening constituted a high-level, three-member committee to conduct an independent investigation into the matter.

allegations could not be independently verified.

The incident has intensified scrutiny of the local police, with citizens demanding stronger enforcement against drug trafficking. They argue that the state government and local representatives to adopt a zero-tolerance policy against narcotics should be reflected in stricter action on the ground. The investigation is continuing, and officials are expected to determine whether further arrests and additional action will follow as police work to identify the full network involved in the alleged smuggling operation.
